I know this is real and that's all I need to keep me going. My soul will plead until the end.
I'll take this to the point of no return, no reason to look back. Truth has been set, my eyes have seen a new life hidden in the depths of repentance. Good bye, try to hold me back, what I was, now forget. Decisions have come with resistance coming at full. The plot inside us all is longing to control, but I won't let it with the power that I have been given. Try stopping me now, this is real, there's no reason to doubt.
I belong to You, what should I fear when I have freedom from understanding my desperate need for more than highs, more than highs so temporary.
I don't belong, still You call me Your own.
Still You call me Your own.
I'm pressing forward for You until the end, no looking back, You saved my soul, I won't forget.
