Coloured eyes escape me
I only see in black and white
It leaves me darker than the night

So, fall in from the moon
Trickling from the eye that watches you

I can hold you back
I can wait and watch you say you'll lose your way
When I'm falling from the sky
Looking at you blind

Living you just breaks me
But it's easy, feels right for inside
If you could only see through my eyes black and white

Tears fall within the moon
Trickling from my eye that watches you

I can hold you back
I can wait and watch you say you'll lose your way
When I'm falling from the sky
(you'll lose your way, you'll lose your way)

I can wait and watch you say (you'll lose your way, you'll lose your way)
I can wait and watch you say (I can wait and watch you)

'Cause I, I can hold you back
I can wait and watch you say you'll lose your way
When I'm falling from the sky
I can hold you back
I can wait and watch you say you'll lose your way
When I'm falling from the sky
Looking at you blind
