Nobody knows this girls name she hides behind
A broken wall of secrets, she built with time
And as you drop your change, do you see her eyes?

She seems lost without a name, a child who's lost her
way
She made the ways to be found, she doesn't hear
The sound of her mother cry
?Darling come home and don?t you be alone?
She said goodbye so long ago

Nobody wants this girls name, bruise [Incomprehensible] life stained
There?s more than you can see there, she cries tears of pain
And as you drop your change, do you see her eyes?

She seems lost without a name, a child who?s lost her
way
She made the ways to be found, she doesn't hear
The sound of her mother cry
?Darling, come home and don?t you be alone?
She said goodbye so long ago
So long ago

She doesn't hear the sound of her mother cry
?Darling come home and don?t you be alone?
She said goodbye, so long ago
