If you want to love someone like me
then, baby, youâ€™ve got to make me see that it
ainâ€™t hopeless
No, it ainâ€™t hopeless for me to believe

How come the scale is always tipped?
What love comes with conditions like this?
Enough, too tired to say a word Because I know what comes after Like the wind you change but you come right back With more up your sleeve and your pride intact
You say that youâ€™ll try but thatâ€™s only a way
To say later on that you never did say That you would Because you wonâ€™t Oh you could,
But darling, you donâ€™t

If you want to love someone like me
then, baby, youâ€™ve got to make me see that it
ainâ€™t hopeless
No, it ainâ€™t hopeless for me to believe

Well now the worst is over, yet our love exists in retrospect Forget the girl who used to shine
Lord knows Iâ€™ve dulled these eyes of mine Because I fear being trapped more than being alone
So Iâ€™ve wandered this life a lost soul stepping stone Digging down deep, and pulling it out Stretching so thin that everyone doubts
They can see the true me Itâ€™s a sea of longing

If you want to love someone like me
then, baby, youâ€™ve got to make me see that it
ainâ€™t hopeless
No, it ainâ€™t hopeless for me to believe
