You opened my eyes and set my soul free only to capture it again in dreams You say I stole your heart, but I took my time and now I'm wondering if you could be mine

Baby please, won't you please me?
I ain't got your number, babe
but it's you I need

Now as the darkness tries to persuade my mind all I see is the passing of time feeling like an eternity until the moment that you're next to me

Baby please, won't you please me?
I ain't got your number, babe
but it's you I need

Buy me a drink and I'll buy you two because darling, dear, that is just what friends do I tracked you down just to seal our fate
She's on your arm because you couldn't wait

Baby please, won't you please me?
I ain't got your number, babe
but it's you I need
