Oh, oh, oh, yeah, oh, oh
Oh, yeah, oh, oh, oh, yeah

I watch the world from a side of the moon
Looking at the stars, looking back to you
Just to see if your world's still alive
Looking at the sun with the fire in your eyes

It's hard to know where I stand
Even a man on the moon couldn't tell me where to land
But I wanted to fly in the sea
With no gravity to pull me down

Hold on, it won't take long
We can find yourself
Even aside to find the star
Don't run to me when you fall

'Cause the steps getting
Bigger so we here to walk them all
And you know how I feel
So don't let your life start to slowly waste away, no, no

So tell me this one thing, now listen to me close
You steal from me but you call it your own
You liar, you thief
Go make your stand on your own two feet

So all now, all now, listen what your friends say
Go now, go now, go going through with that way
I'm the one you want to believe
But in your heart you can't see

Hold on, it won't take long
We can find yourself
Even aside to find the star
Don't run to me when you fall

'Cause the steps getting
Bigger so we here to walk them all
And you know how I feel
So don't let your life start to slowly waste away

Oh, let it fall, let it fall

Hold on, it won't take long
We can find yourself
Even aside to find the star
Don't run to me when you fall

'Cause the steps getting
Bigger so we here to walk them all
And you know how I feel
So don't let your life start to slowly waste away
