It started so good, but good things don't last
I did what I should, but it went by too fast
Now so much time has been thrown away
While all of my rhymes begged me not to stay

If I got my way, I would only play
But this man stays at a desk all day
It's never too late to show what you've got No it's never too late, to give it a shot

I'll write about love, about things and people I care about Cuz it's not about money, when you know what you'll never be Ya I'll say what I want, cuz the records won't sell and the seats won't fill
But I'll never quit, cuz my heart is still a part of it

Now I stand in between, reality and fantasy
Do you know what I mean, I don't want no sympathy Cuz I chose my path, I know where I went wrong
I chose my half, and now I'm all alone
