Maybe something I said
Was just a little bit out of line
And baby it was all in your head
And we had a little too much wine

Trouble with feeling like this
Is it never seems to go away
And double because the memories you miss
Keep coming back every day

But never mind
Because you're never mine
And you never mind
That you're never mine

Hollow is the feeling I get
When I'm walking all alone
Follow me around and I'll bet
You'll be counting every stone

Lonely is just another sound
You heard once in a while
Only then your feet touch the ground
Long enough to walk down the isle

But never mind
Because you're never mine
And you never mind
That you're never mine

If you love it let it go
If it's yours it'll come back
If it doesn't it never was, it never was
Maybe something I said
Was just a little bit out of line
And baby it was all in your head
And we had a little too much wine

Trouble with feeling like this
Is it never seems to go away
And double because the memories you miss

Keep coming back every day

But never mind
Because you're never mine
And you never mind
That you're never mine
