If we were the last ocean in the world
And I was the last boy and you the girl

Would you spend your last days wondering where the others went
If this were our last romp would you dance different

If I was the last ocean the first photograph of earth
Would that change what I was worth
Would I set your hand in motion
If I were the last ocean

If this was the first moment of your life
And I was Adam and you could be my wife

And we could choose
And we'd just need the proof

If original was sin would you be penitent
If this were our last romp would you dance different

If I were the last ocean the first photograph of earth
Would that change what I was worth
Would I set your hand in motion
If I were the last ocean

What we gonna drink when it all runs out?
What we gonna think when the thought runs out?
How we gonna give if the gift runs out?
Where we gonna live if it all runs out?

What we gonna drink when it all runs out?
What we gonna think when the thought runs out?
How we gonna give if the gift runs out?
Where we gonna live if it all runs out?

If I were the last ocean the first photograph of earth
Would that change what I was worth
Would I set your hand in motion
If I were the last ocean
