"Statues Of Feathers"

Visit "Statues Of Feathers" on MotoLyrics.com

Wounded and broken, we learn to spread our wings
Take me back to those days
Careless as children, our worries so far away
Innocence has now washed away

This waking life, this broken city under fading lights
Raise a glass for tomorrow, she'd a tear for the town
One prayer for the city, one laugh for the clown

We'll be remembered in statues of feathers
We'll leave this life and fly away

I never wanna come down
I never wanna come down
Statues of feathers, we'll be bound together
Statues of Feathers, we'll fly
