Once upon a time, in a world empty of joy
Grew up a little boy
His arms were weak, but his head was full
His dreams were big and his will was true
So when despise struck his people
He didn't have much choice but to hit the road

Back in the days when he started to wonder
Back in a life of lies
From his elders' path he decided to wander
Keeping his tricks from being despised
Such a little boy shouldn't be ignored
And he wasn't for long as he met a wise man who told him a little secret

Run for your mind, run foolish kiddo
Run as far as your legs allow you to go
Take it to the top
Give it everything you've got
And then even a bit more
Cause they will try to tie you down to their will
And they won't give your lungs a second to refill
So breathe in and don't give up
Or you'll be shot, hung, chopped for what you are not

You can't stop me now
You can't stop me now

Dreams wrapped in a bag
He fucked you big time
Ain't no need to brag
With a blast like his rhyme

Dreams wrapped in a bag
He fucked you big time
Ain't no need to brag
You can't stop him now

May my way not be filled with annoying obstacles
Wished the little boy
But the more he progressed in his travel,

The less his request seemed workable
So he looked the fear deeply in the eyes
Then grabbed the mic to shout out loud

You canâ€™t stop me now
You canâ€™t stop me now
Dreams wrapped in a bag
He fucked you big time
Ainâ€™t no need to brag
With a blast like his rhyme

Dreams wrapped in a bag
He fucked you big time
You canâ€™t stop him now

Past, dreams,
Present and reality,
He keeps on moving
