Why you try to stop my every move
My respect and kindness were true
You should worry, worry
Cause if this would all would happen to you
You would feel what a lot have been through
Worry, worry
Cause ever since we seek for loving
Won't leave don't need more problems
What we see is from only one way
How we see it is only one way
Cause ever since we seek for loving
Won't leave don't need more problems
What we see is from only one way
How we see it is only one way

Here's why I grief mostly bored and smoke weed
Steep were my hills in thought but I fought
Street dreams life taught experience scores best
Had the world on your shoulder you're left with a sour back
You ones had it all piled stacked and bundled
Till it all turned black at the end of the tunnel
Lost track than huddle had you trapped and muzzled
Without the rest you rolling back in trouble, hear them bastards chuckle
Heard you wining cause you stepped and stumbled
Dying inside acting like you mad at me lying
Been relying, been trying kept losing patience
Questioning myself on who the hell am I waiting,

Why you try to stop my every move
My respect and kindness were true
You should worry, worry
Cause if this would all would happen to you
You would feel what a lot have been through
Worry, worry
Cause ever since we seek for loving
Won't leave don't need more problems
What we see is from only one way
How we see it is only one way
Cause ever since we seek for loving

Won't leave don't need more problems
What we see is from only one way
How we see it is only one way

When growing up they held a hand on my face
Wasn't hooked up was rejected a place
I had to do something just perfected my taste
The largest thing ever never beaten to date
Who ever was hungry shared a piece of my plate
And I always showed love why should I keep it away
But dreams had us craven for more light
And brother killing brother but it's one enemy that we all fight
And I don't hold a grudge I hope my men will be alright
And maybe in the future blow some heat in this cold life
It ain't my fault if you don't appreciate it
But if you turn your back on me, at least you could say it.

Why you try to stop my every move
My respect and kindness were true
You should worry, worry
Cause if this would all would happen to you
You would feel what a lot have been through
Worry, worry
Cause ever since we seek for loving
Won't leave don't need more problems
What we see is from only one way
How we see it is only one way
Cause ever since we seek for loving
Won't leave don't need more problems
What we see is from only one way
How we see it is only one way
