Light the fire, take me higher
Sell my soul for what it's worth
Set the course right, into the night
Far behind us, planet Earth

Strange affliction, drug addiction
Too many people, too many cars
Mind destruction, soul abduction
Build a new home in the stars

Celestial chaos and madness
Causing temples to fall into space
Planets collide in a daydream
Giving birth to an alien race
Send the kids to the stars for our future
It's the way that religion has planned
Television and science control us
And the drugs help us all understand

Light the fire, take me higher
Sell my soul for what it's worth
Set the course right, into the night
Far behind us, planet Earth
