[verse 1]

Calm down pries you can do this,
light, aye and i'm so...
So high cant breath and shit
But wishing on a star is what I believe in.
Dream chasing through a cloud call it prelims.
If i ever finish last pretense.
Swimming through emotions in my deep end.
And I feel like a dare but no ones listening
Backspace all the time I spent creeping
Those are metaphors for this life I been cheating with.
Bitches and brooms and all the finer things
We seldomly choose love over finer bling
Find the cream, black the coffee
As they sleep I was living out my fucking dream.
Hakuna matata if she wears proda.
But if she ain't got a job i cant call her,
Getting her number is just a reward,
And i never call her cause cause i need more.

[Hook]

Please put your seat belts on (seat belts on)
And please hold on (please hold on)
Cause we only got one night and one life when we get there this is what it feels like Put your seat belts on (put your seat belts on aye yo aye yo)

[verse 2]

And don't be scared to fly
Cause the turbulence was the purpose to dream tonight
I pour a cup, just for you and me
To celebrate the times that we still believed
In the dream that they say only fools chase
But you didn't blink at the chance of a brighter day
I bring the haze if you bring the lays
The secrets on her body just for foreplay,
For her sake all the things we take for granted
Call it passion of manage to successlantic
Independent not to vantage of fanatics to the acting

Like we made it how we said it know no bragging ooh, To this day ill never leave her
And field full of dreams know what I mean ooh, Shes a catch and I receive her and i don't wanna go but i gotta leave peace

[Hook]

Please put your seat belts on (seat belts on)
And please hold on (please hold on)
Cause we only got one night and one life when we get
there this
is what it feels like Put your seat belts on (put your seat belts on aye yo aye yo)
