

Orange And Lemons

"The Lowest Point On Earth"

Visit "The Lowest Point On Earth" on MotoLyrics.com

At the deepest ground under the water Lies the sinken village of unanswered dreams
The deceased estate of our fathers
When my work is done it'll be my own Its only the water it's always the water that'll take you in when your hope is broken That'll be your home that is your unspoken friend Were on the lowest point on earth hope for the highest grace of birth
The world is drownded and rearranged we will never be the same again
Were on the lowest point on earth hope for the highest
grace of birth
How I wish that the raging sea will forgive us to eternity Well learn to love the whales to swim with the dolphins We might fall asleep find to endless peace
When all the continents break up and set the tortured souls of it's victims free and worlds overfreezing madness
Is consigned to the sea It'll be the water it's always the water that'll be our home for centuries that'll be my downfall and my victory

Visit Orange And Lemons page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.