lonely road in the darkest night this is the lifeway just for you i've found the switch i've found the light i've found the correct angle of view you rotate in the circle living in the cube travel by tube in the neverending loop so why you ask me what to do when you've got your only one true my world is now can't you see your innermost wish is to be like me my world is now don't you think i have to profit untill i am king my world is now

your face is grey my name is the greatest word of the world so why you stay behind me by stealth you're holding my belt you don't understand you're not my friend
this is not your start this is the end
