They said: "It's time" to forget what was mine, to throw the things I was holding on They said: "Now is not time to cry, now is time to repair what is done."

(What you have done?)

Try to think for a little while but you don't used to and that's why you have a broken knee
You'd never believe me what I found
Try to think, try to be free!

Maybe you can meet the world
And it could bring you down
Try to walk across the dirt
And don't get stuck inside

(Stuck inside)

Somewhere down in a cave
Every sound is diving there
There is an echo which is surviving

It's pleading to stay (2x)
It's pleading for one more day

The echo has a short life
Not longer than a knife
As it falls on the ground!

(I don't wanna be like that)
