People look a certain way at a certain time 'o day
And it's all that you can do to keep your wits about yourself

Met him on a Saturday at a funeral buffet
And I should've called the ambulance for help

'Cause I loved him the moment that I saw him
And I knew he was gonna break my soul
And I drown in every puddle that I walk in
'Cause I'm invincible

People speak in certain tongues when they know you're almost won

And it's all that you can do to keep your country's borders safe

Let him in a little bit just enough to realize That I had to let him go before he lost his will to give

'Cause I loved him the moment that I saw him
And I knew he was gonna break my soul
And I drown in every puddle that I walk in
'Cause I'm invincible

Give a little more give a little more than you've been used to

Tell me what is gonna happen are you gonna fall down
are you gonna break down

From the highest holiest hill give a little more than you've been used to

Tell me what is gonna happen are you gonna fall down like the day back when

When you lost your mind when you lost your will

People look a certain way at a certain time 'o day
And it's all that you can do to keep your wits about

I loved him the moment that I saw him
And I knew he was gonna break my soul
And I drown in every puddle that I walk in
'Cause I'm invincible

Give a little more give a little more than you've been
used to
Tell me what is gonna happen are you gonna fall down
are you gonna break down
Give a little more give a little more than you've been
used to
Tell me what is gonna happen are you gonna fall down
like the day back when
When you lost your mind when you lost your will
