Give it a listen love
If you're quiet for long enough
All the echoes and noise and stuff
Might combust

And give it a listen love
Your little head has worked hard enough
And your heavy eyes might adjust
If you trust

So close your eyes
Nothing needs to be solved tonight
Just turn down the lights

Let the big world spin
There's a rhythm in everything
Even the sun must sink
For it to begin again

Be a big girl now
It's a big world anyhow
When our words run out
We will slow, slow it down

And give it a listen love
Your little heart beats fast enough
There are echoes and fairy dust
If you trust

And give it a listen love
Your little head has worked hard enough
And your heavy eyes might adjust
If you trust

So close your eyes
Nothing needs to be solved tonight
Just turn down the lights

Let the big world spin
There's a rhythm in everything
Even the sun must sink

For it to begin again

Be a big girl now
It's a big world anyhow
When our words run out
We will slow, slow it down

Let the big world spin
There's a rhythm in everything
Even the sun must sink
For it to begin again

Be a big girl now
It's a big world anyhow
When our words run out
We will slow, slow it down
We will slow, slow it down
