Emmylou Harris With Roy Orbison

Roy:

When I saw you standing there on the street
I found myself by your side
I started wanting you again
There's just no way to hide from that old
Loving you feeling again
It's really got me reeling again
It only seems to stop to start all over again with you

Emmylou:

I remember how you always get
That certain look in your eyes
Your not easy to resist but I just walked on by
With that loving old feeling again

Roy:

Loving you feeling

Emmylou:

It's really got me reeling again

Roy:

Loving you

Emmylou:

Only seems to stop to start all over again with you

Roy:

Loving you feeling

Both:

Loving you feeling with you

Roy:

We were so close

Emmylou:

We were too far apart

Roy:

I gave you my love

Emmylou:
I wanted your heart

Both:
Without yesterday haunting the way
Maybe we'd still be together

Sharing that loving you feeling again (loving you feeling)
It's really got me reeling again (loving you)
Will it ever stop and not start over again
That loving you feeling again
No matter how much I try (loving you feeling)
This loving you feeling is why (loving you feeling)
It's taken such a long, long time to say goodbye
And getting over you is so hard to do
With this feeling loving you
That loving you feeling again

Loving you feeling again
That loving you feeling again
Loving you feeling again
That loving you feeling again
Loving you feeling again
That loving you feeling again
Loving you feeling again
That loving you feeling again
