One step is all you need to quickly go and deviate her
The way you're travelling is okay
There's something crooked in the flavour that alleviates her
This opportunity just won't wait

The whole world will rise up to meet you girl

Don't let the road lead you the wrong way
Don't let this love lead you astray

The night so long without my open heart to lay beside her
The space that's in between is too long
You're following a trail one hundred days just to collide
her
The ideology is forlorn

A good beginning is half the work
The whole world will rise up to meet you girl

Don't let the road lead you the wrong way
Don't let this love lead you astray

You say we lose - invisible love just can't hide
Don't say that you already know the big surprise
Another chance so this time loosen up the ties
You know the destination still you can't decide

And I forget the time you're sleeping in the after I was holding on until it's some day

So don't let the road lead you the wrong way
Don't let this love lead you astray
