[Incomprehensible]
Hey, she's okay
Hey, she's okay

Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
She never slows down and she can't get enough
The Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
She's holding her heart to the stars above

She can't afford dreams and her clothes are old
She can't afford hope, wouldn't be so bold
But she's holding his heart and she won't let go again

She's a femme fatal, well, that's what they say
But she knows he couldn't love her any other way
'Cause she's holding him now and she won't let go
again
Yes, she's holding him now and she'll never let go
again

Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
She never slows down and she can't get enough
The Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
She's holding her heart to the stars above

She never slows down and she doesn't play straight
Just cruising around in her own sweet way
But she's taking her time and he's gonna get fooled
again

She learned about life 'til she wished she were dead
So she treats that guy like a hole in the head
Can you see him now? He'll never get lucky again
Can you see him now? He'll never get lucky again

Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
She never slows down and she can't get enough
The Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
She's holding her heart to the stars above

The Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
The Goddess of love, the Goddess of love

The Goddess of love, the Goddess of love
Heart and soul

She's the Goddess of love as she covers the ground
She looks just great and she never slows down
And she's holding his heart and she won't let go again

Yes, she's holding his heart and she won't let go again
Oh, she's holding his heart and she won't let go again
Yes, she's holding his heart and she won't let go again
Oh, she's holding his heart and she won't let go again
