The first mistake
Is when you take
What you thought you'd changed for granted
All that's certain runs aground
All is lost that had been found
The next mistake
Is when you break
Every rule that you invented
Can you feel it coming down
Can't you see it all around
Let the dog out of the cage
Then surrender to the rage
I don't want a thing to care
The last mistake
You ever make
Thinking modern's new forever
Can you feel it coming down
Can't you see it all around
Let the dog out of the cage
Then surrender to the rage
I don't want a thing to care
Let the dog out of the cage
Then surrender to the rage
I don't want a thing to care
