I won't believe the here and now.

Can't bare these thoughts that drag me down.

And I've tried to overcome.

But the scars feed a hate that has left me numb.

Tell me why the fuck I should strive to see my happiness denied another time.

This world won't ever see me bleed

from the wounds that it left on me.

This world won't ever see me bleed

from the wounds that it left on me.

Can't keep up with the pace of time.

But it'll never keep me down - Won't keep me down.

Too many times I've ceased to feel alive.

I'll bare my wrongs, but it won't keep me down.

Won't keep me down.

Left on my own, knowing that I'll never mend.

My mind's at ease, but I will never feel again.

Too many times I've ceased to feel alive.

I'll bare my wrongs, but it won't keep me down.
