Burn the flesh that had long been rotten
He has gone but he's not forgotten
Saying his name but don't replace
The time he spent to make his space
He's the only one to keep alive

Here they come again
With their bloodshot eyes
Leave the promise land
She'd your earthly skin

Left alone in a tiny capsule
He's the king of an empty castle
Went away to fill the grave
And made him stay a human slave
Never got to meet the son of mine

Here they come again
With their bloodshot eyes
Leave the promise land
She'd your earthly skin
