(originally by Wolfmother)

Alright!

I said the joker is a wanted man,
He makes his way all across the land,
See him sifting through the sand,

So I'll tell you all the story,
'Bout the joker and the thief of the night,

He's always laughing in the midst of power,
Always living in the final hour,
There is always sweet in sour,

So we, are not, goin' home,

Can you see the joker flyin' over,
As she's standing in the field of clover,
Watching out everyday?
I wonder what would happen if he took her away?

What you see well you might not know,
You get the feelin' comin' after the glow,
The vagabond is moving slow,

So I'll tell you all the story,
'Bout the joker and the thief of the night,

All the people that he see in the night,
Hold their dreams up into the light,
The Wildebeest is setting her sights,

And we, are not, goin' home,

Can you see the joker flying over,
As she's standing in the field of clover,
Watching out everyday?
I wonder what would happen if he took her away?

I said the joker is a wanted man,
He makes his way all across the land,

See him sifting through the sand,

So I'll tell you all the story 'bout the the joker and the thief,

I said, I told you all the story 'bout the the joker and the
thief,

thief, of the night
