Somewhere in my mind with everything I've left behind
You still remain.

And I've been a fool
I let You go, but now I know
I have to find You, again.

Running, Running, Running, Running Home now
Running, Running, Running, Running Home now

And then my feels decide affraid of what I felt inside
I've pushed You away.

How could I miss so blind to throw away the love you gave
I have to find You, again.

I'm running thru the rain,
I have to feel your love again,
Your arms around me.

I'm finding bit my tears
I'm finally know what true love is,
I have to find You

Running, Running, Running, Running Home now
