Did you think I'd play these games with you?
Did you think I couldn't help it?
I'm strong enough
I'm good enough
Step down step down, you're the big mistake
I'm losing all control and this is my face
From here on out you can always count on me count on me to be your enemy, count on me

[Pre-Chorus]

These are the faces (faces of time)
That's what you're living through
This is all about you

[Chorus]

You're slipping in and out of time, who are you to decide which one of us winds up broken for a lifetime and still you'll never be satisfied until one of us falls
apart
I've had enough of this
And these are the faces

You've lost your golden reigns, you've failed to read the signs

you'll find out there's no answers to your stupid ass questions
you can try and tell yourself that everything's all right

[Pre Chorus 2]

When someone is taking all your fame
That's what you're living through these are the faces
And I think that they're all coming after you!

When you're slipping in and out of time, who are you to decide
which one of us winds up broken for a lifetime
and no you'll never be satisfied until one of us falls
apart

I've had enough of this
And these are the faces

And nothing can go away (the way you do) and nothing can go away
two faced and pretentious!

[Chorus 2 repeat]
