Fly away little pretty bird
Fly away, fly away, little pretty bird
And pretty you'll always be
And pretty you'll always be

Come sunrise, everything's gonna be alright Come right and wrong, there's strength to carry on

All night forever, that's the story of the slave
But come dark and dawn, you're a slave to no one

Listen to the songs the birdies sing, you'll feel a bit better 'bout everything
Out of the dark and into the light, and you know that it's really gonna be alright

Time'll come when my body will leave
But my love and faith in you will always be

Like an ocean, yes it's deep and mighty wide
But in your heart you can get to the other side

(Chorus)

The sky is dark, the sun has gone to bed
It's time to rest now my sleepyhead

Into the night, yeah, the night is your friend
But when you're feeling sad, seems like there's no end

(Chorus)
