You walk down the same old road,
In the chaos of the city.
Another day of work,
It is finally finished.
All the shops close down,
All the lights come on,
Yet you run around,
Looking for something more.

Have you ever thought you could freeze the time?
Run free of worries, live your past behind?
Have you have stopped, looked up to the sky?
Take a little time to watch the birds fly high?

There is always a sunrise, there is always a new day,
after the darkness of the night,
the sun will shine.

If you take a knock and you fall down
Hit the ground
donâ€™t stay down,
No, dust it off,
lift your eyes up
Rise up, wise up
And if you want you know
You can hit the top

If you face with opposition
We may focus on your vision of your mission
Be efficient bring your forces into submission
You can make the decision, Never to surrender, never to give into Issues that you are facing

The time will come
When the light will come through
The sun will shine
And the sky be blue

Have you ever thought you could freeze the time?
Run free of worries, live your past behind?

Have you have stopped, looked up to the sky?
Take a little time to watch the birds fly high?

There is always a sunrise, there is always a new day,
after the darkness of the night,
the sun will shine.

If your heart is racing just be patient
Listen, all I'm saying is you can make it You can go as far and as highest
You can rise, is your time to decide.

There is always a sunrise, there is always a new day,
after the darkness of the night,
the sun will shine.
