Don't worry about the future if it gets you down Don't worry about the heartbreak when it comes around
Money aint a problem when your livin high
I'm gonna forget about my troubles and live my life

I don't need it anymore
Forget about your worries forget it all
Throw your troubles out the door
Cause maybe you don't need them anymore

Don't worry about the people that don't understand you
They don't know a single, tiniest, littlest thing about you
I'm gonna try to do my best this time
I'm not going to take anything for granted and live my life

I don't need it anymore
Forget about your worries forget it all
Throw your troubles out the door
Cause maybe you don't need them anymore

Today I might just live my life
Today I might just live my life
Today I might just live my life
Today I might just live my life

Hey girl, you mind if i call you up and come over We could have a good time drinkin red wine, sittin on the sofa
Hey girl, I've told you before, your my little soldier
And hey girl, lets worry about it when we're older

I don't need it anymore
Forget about your worries forget it all
Throw your troubles out the door
Cause maybe you don't need them anymore

Today I might just live my life

Today I might just live my life
Today I might just live my life
Today I might just live my life
