AWAKE FOR DROWNING

All I have is fading
It rocks and my hands waving Give in Give up Give out what you're really thinking

I can't contain the shame, for the medication,
please take away this grey cold world that you painted,
I will give up and let you down

Chorus

Don't try to be what you can't seize, another one who let me down

Don't lie to me to make believe, that this will turn out differently

So why are you still waiting. What were you expecting

Give in Give up Give out what you're really thinking

I can't contain the shame, for the medication,
please take away this grey cold world that you painted,
I will give up and let you down

Chorus

Don't try to be what you can't seize, Another
one who let me down

out different

Bridge

Chorus

Don't try to be what you can't seize, another
one who let me down

out different

Well Differently

So Different

Ah Differently
