I once met this old wise man
He invited me into his caravan
We sat down for a cup of tea
He sat down very gingerly
He said he's still got a sore back
From that time, on the roof with Jack
We were on the roof one day, when suddeny I heard Jack say "Look out for that crack!"
Phewhack! I was lying on my back
When I was just your age, I was already working For a shearling a day
It was enough for mom to say
Ohhhh Johnny you make me so proud!
Pa would come home from work, and say "John, one day, you'll work with me down at the factory."
Well I don't want to work in no factory
So I packed my bags and I headed for the trees.
I was only away from home for about an hour
But I was home in time for tea
I said very politely that I didn't want to work in no factory.
Pa said John you're a second-class citizen, and you're never gonna get very far
I said Pa, I'm gonna see the world, I'm gonna see it all I'm gonna be all that I can be, and more.
Daddy finished his cup of tea, reached into his pocket,
and pulled out a key
He said you can have my old caravan, I won't be needing it anymore.
Because I've see all I wanna see, and more.
