I'm hearing voices in my head it's in my telephone
They tell me things I don't wanna hear or wanna know
I don't like it
I'm losing control
But I won't carry on

You hear the bump, bump, bumping through you stereo
And I know it stands for something that you don't know
But I like it
I'm in control
Ohh oh

Stop talking I don't wanna hear anymore
The song your singing isn't something I like to endure
Your melody's been playing in my head for too long
So I'm a teach you how to sing my song
Stop playing games and building up your fantasies
Your wasting time I won't always be your harmony
Your melody's been playing in my head for too long
So I'm a teach you how to sing my song

All these walls caving in around I can't breathe
I'm suffocated by the pressure of you symphony
I can't take this
It's making me ill,
But I'm a live to tell

Listen to me
You don't know me
You can't break me
You can't shake me
So back up off me, back, back up off me now
And let me play my song for the crowd

Stop talking I don't wanna hear anymore
The song your singing isn't something I like to endure
Your melody's been playing in my head for too long
So I'm a teach you how to sing my song
Stop playing games and building up your fantasies
Your wasting time I won't always be your harmony
Your melody's been playing in my head for too long

So I'm a teach you how to sing my song

I was feeling the rhythm
And beat until you came in
And told me the was it was suppose to be
Your making it harder
And harder for me
To go on and do me why can't you see
Nothing can stop me
And nothing and drop me
So might as well give up and hang your head
Down, down

Stop talking I don't wanna hear anymore
The song your singing isn't something I like to endure
Your melody's been playing in my head for too long
So I'm a teach you how to sing my song
Stop playing games and building up your fantasies
Your wasting time I won't always be your harmony
Your melody's been playing in my head for too long
So I'm a teach you how to sing my song

I'm gonna teach you, teach you, teach you how to sing
my song
