Broken your eyes,
Stare back at you
But this mirror wasn't made for one
You know that when they're here

Cause distance
Is damage
And these words
I can't speak
Don't fade away

Trust me I know
Things are changing
And I know
That I'll never fade from you

Second retake
You're nervous now
The longer you wait you know that they'll
Grow farther away

Cause distance
Is damage
And these words
I can't speak
Don't fade away

Trust me I know
Things are changing
And I know
That I'll never fade from you
So forget the sunset
(It still looks faint to me)
We don't need anything
Just promise me I won't walk alone

I would sing about our love
But it would hurt too much
Cause new love is gained
Only at someone's loss

I believe in you

(This still looks faint to me)
I believe in you
(This still looks faint to me)

But I can't sing about this love
When all I know is the sun will set
And I can't sing about this love
When all I know is what we were
