You hit me like a punch that dropped me to my knees
But upon getting up I found you're everything I need
Your love is but a touch that likes the feel of me
It only took one look for me to laugh and see
Yeah

Your eyes like sunrise
You shine in my life
It's darkest just before the dawn
But I will guide you in song

You hit me like a punch that dropped me to my knees
Upon getting up I found you're everything I need
Your love is but a touch that likes the feel of me
You are my everything

Your eyes like sunrise
You shine in my life
It's darkest just before the dawn

And everything time you catch my eye
There snaps a picture in my mind
And when I see you smile
I like to put a pause on time
And stay for awhile
Cause you're my world and I'll never let you go
Come a little closer cause I need you to know
I can't wait to watch us grow
And i hope that you know

Your eyes like sunrise
You shine in my life
It's darkest just before the dawn
