Darken

Darken sea, through the night
This moon shines through those fire flies
Darken time, through the years
This sun shines through those hollow fears, and

Times changed
These new days here
I'm thinking loud
I'm seeing clear

These years passed, seems like days
This moon shines through those fire flies
I Listen ahead to what I hear
This sun shines through those hollow fears, and

Times changed
These new days here
I'm thinking loud
I'm seeing clear

Why me, what's it for
From the past to settle a score
Why me, what's it take
From the past and driven by hate

These times change

Times changed
These new days here
I'm thinking loud
I'm seeing clear

Why me, what's it for
From the past to settle a score
Why me, what's it take
From the past and driven by hate

These times change

Darken sea, through the night

This moon shines through those fire flies
Darken time, through the years
This sun shines through those hollow fears, and

Why me, what's it for
From the past to settle a score
Why me, what's it take
From the past and driven by hate

These times change

Times change
