stare into the sun
let the disease infect your eyes feel the rapture of her cold kiss her cold lips filled with worm juice pressed against your beating heart cold hands run trembling still over smooth skin aching from the years of abuse and neglect a child abused and broken down so the virus can plague her discordant screams
memories of the days gone by
discordant screams
memories of the years gone by
teeth in a bag
tears in a cup
she slits her wrists
to forget
the torment of a twisted life
teeth in a bag
tears in a cup
to forget
the torment of a twisted life
teeth in a bag
tears in a cup
to forget
