

Sewing With Nancie "The Lesson"

Visit "The Lesson" on MotoLyrics.com

(White)

Now that you've earned yourself a melody I'll sing it out in stereo; you can hear it better. How far will you go to be so fresh and cold? I heard you were dramatic, well I can add to this. Here goes nothing.
Remember what you said about our friendship: "It isn't just a friendship, it means we're friends 'till the end" See, the end was months ago. I wish I could have been there. I like to tell myself that. You know I'm not afraid of reality because I breathe it everyday. It's not a movie. These bones are not afraid to be broken for my friends because I care about them without limits or ends. With that said: You're in a rush, I can see this. Well you can run, I will crawl. I thought I'd seen it all. Will it be there when you fall? Because this filter is the last one of them all. This fall I'm realizing I'm not so tall for you. After the dust has settled, after the blood of friendship has been shed. I'm going to rise up like an elevator. Take this from my heart and bury deep inside your head.

Visit Sewing With Nancie page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.