Bury your ashes in the sand with you
Follow those footprints that you left behind
We left our oceans outside
Swallow black embers of a burning fire

Now I'm really thinking
There's more to life
Seven years of drinking
Finally killed your wife

We left our oceans outside
So now I'll wait for your call
Preaching to a choir of a lost land
Hollow back echoes to a crying child

Now I'm really thinking
There's more to life
Seven years of drinking
Finally killed your wife
And all I'm really missing
Is the key to life
Ten more years of drinking
Will kill your wife
