I quite like the way you smile, quite like the way you say my name, somewhat of a fascination, how you swirl a conversation, and when we're apart I think about you all the time, tell me quick, are you thinking about me?
You don't know how much I care, do you? You don't realize this song is about you!

So come play a song for me on your beautiful guitar, got everyone fallin' in love, standing there, and lookin' special, but if i saw you in the pourin' rain, the illusion wouldn't be the same, I think you should know, you'd still be strangely beautiful, strangely beautiful oo-oooo-oo.

I quite like the way you laugh, quite like the way you play guitar, a subject of admiration, messin' with my concentration, you're like a song, I sing on and on and on, tell me quick, are you singing about me?
You don't know how I care, do you? You don't realize, this song is about you, so come play a song for me, on your beautiful guitar, got everyone fallin' in love, standin' there, lookin' special, but if I saw you in the pourin' rain, the illusion wouldn't be the same, I think you should know, you'd still be strangely beautiful.
When the music stops, and the crowds go home, you take your rockstar self apart, I want you to know, you'll still be, in my heart, oo-oo,

You're strangely beautiful, You're strangely beautiful,
You're strangely beautiful, You're strangely beautiful, Strangely beautiful.
