You pursued me; I wasn't looking for you; you pursued me; now I know what love feels like.

Wasn't in a position, to be choosy, my conviction; Led me out my afflictions, but I fit, the description; I was lost, so far beyond, I never knew, that you would come. I was caught, my accusers, had their stones ready to throw; I took a breath, had nothing left, reached the ending of the road; then you said, you're free to go, I'm not against you, You're free to go

If you ask if I was scared, then my answer would be yeah; But my fears were far erased and what seemed beyond repair; It was mended, and you fixed it, it was mended, Lord you fixed it.

My entitlement to me, I released like a decree; And I've signed away the deed, here's my heart and here's the key; And I'm open. I know, that you'll keep me in perfect peace; You've won me over, you're my lover, you're my friend whose like no other You have my heart; you have my affection, and given me a new direction.
