You treat this like a game, but it's my heart
and it's breaking all because of you.
The hour glass is running out, and you're still trying to fill it up.
But i've lost hope. You should too.
-But the situation we're repeating, over rated is what you made it. I'm all done and now i'm all out of time.
What can i say? What can i say, when all you do is push me away? What will I say to you when it all comes down to it. Seems like with every word we say, we're slowly fading away.
You acted like you cared, but you don't. Stop pretending, cause you're hurting me.
My first impressions disappear. Your tongue-tied words, so insincere. You always do as you please.
-And the situation we're repeating, over rated is what you made it. I'm all done and now i'm all out of time.
What can i say? What can i say, when all you do is push
me away? What will I say to you when it all comes down to it. Seems like with every word we say, we're slowly
fading away.
I can't talk to you (talk to you). You never see my point of view, no, like i want you to (like i want you to, woah).
Feels like I always go unheard, because your actions speak louder than my words. That's why i always come back to..
-What can i say? What can i say, when all you do is (when all you do is) push me away? What will I say to you when it all comes down to it. Seems like with every word we say, we're slowly fading away.
(What can i say?) I'm fading away.
(What can i say?) I'm fading away. Away, oh.
Cause it's my heart, and it's breaking all because of you.
What can i say?
