"What Can I Say?"

You treat this like a game
But its my heart
And its breaking all because of you
The hourglass is running out
And you're still trying to fill it up
But I've lost hope
You should too
The situation we're repeating
Over rated is what you've made it
I'm all done and now I'm all out of time
What can I say?
What can I say?
When all you do is push me away
What will I say to you
When it all comes down to it
Seems like with every word we say
We're slowly fading away
You acted like you care
But you don't stop pretending
Cause your hurting me
My first impressions disappear
Your tongue-tied words so insincere
You always do, as you please
And the situation we're repeating
Over rated is what you've made it
I'm all done and now I'm all out of time
What can I say?
What can I say?
When all you do is push me away
What will I say to you?
When it all comes down to it
Seems like with every word we say
We're slowly fading away

I can't talk to you
(talk to you)
You never see my point of view
No, like I want you to (like I want you to, whoa)
Feels like I always go unheard
Because your actions speak louder than my words
That's why I always come back to

What can I say?
What can I say?
When all you do is
(when all you do is)
Push me away
What will I say to you?
When it all comes down to it
Seems like with every word we say
We're slowly fading away
(What can I say?)
I'm fading away
(what can I say?)
I'm fading away, away ooh
Cause it's my heart
And it's breaking
All because of you
What can I say?
