"Imagination"

I'm a lonely stranger
In this world I'm living in
I'm the one who tries
To reach the unknown
As proud as an eagle
Who's facing straight
Against the wind
I need all my might to carry on

I'm on that way again

Imagination
Show me the place I want to be in Imagination
Break my deepest fears
Imagination
When I'm looking inside
The foreteller's sphere
Imagination
I want to see it clear

What's beyond the curtain
That surrounds me
In my mortal cage
Where I'm playing games
Of flame and ice
I always knew when
You watched me
And tried to hide
My fear and pain
To keep it somewhere
Deep inside my eyes
