Wanted something but I had to give Drop a dime every time, what I need to live
Never felt so out of control
Following rainbows God knows it's taking it's toll
Breathing life into my veins
Nevertheless makes a mess inside my brain
Never thought I'd feel deranged
Worth the fuss cause it's taming my hunger pains

Now who are you ever gonna call when you loose it all
You hunger, hunger pains
Hunger
Hunger pains

A cliché that feels so right
When you love want feel you put up a fight
Make a mess out of something good cause' you know next time
Never do what you would Feeling like you've found the sky
Nevertheless emptiness is dancing inside
Found a window to see through
Worth the wait just in time cause' I'm hungry for you

Now who are you ever gonna call when you loose it all
You hunger, hunger pains
Hunger
Now how are you ever gonna hide the feeling inside
You wonder
Hunger pains

And then you wonder have I been away
Ya you wonder why do I feel out of my place
You feel down
You need another round

Another midnight and you're all alone
Another voice telling you something has been wrong you need a friend
The hunger's settling in

Now who are you ever gonna call when you loose it all
You hunger, hunger pains
Hunger
Now how are you ever gonna hide the feeling inside
You wonder
Hunger pains
