Snow falls on the city
White on white
It's the color of hope
On an unforgiving night
You kissed me in ruins
Sin on sin
Now I've got to love your love letters written on my skin
I can't tell the stars from the downtown lights
If I said I was truly over you
My heart would say amen
But I'd give in to the cold caress of 2 am
If I admit I can't get used to this
Will my heart break again?
As I fall
Into the waiting arms of 2 am
Someone scratching music
Through the walls
Sirens weaving through the streets
I must have missed your call
I'm gathering up these nights
Black on black
I know your voice like it's my own and it makes my heart go slack
I can't tell the stars from the downtown lights
If I said I was truly over you
My heart would say amen
But I'd give into the cold caress of 2 am
If I admit I can't get used to this
Will my heart break again?
As I fall
Into the waiting arms of 2 am
Ooooooh
If I said I was truly over you
My heart would say amen
But I'd give into the cold caress of 2 am
If I admit I can't get used to this
Will my heart break again?
As I fall
Into the waiting arms of 2 am
