What are the chances there'd be you and me?
There is no might have been,
I say it's destiny
Out of all of the lives
we could live
all of the love we could give

Who would ever guess, out of all the rest,
that you would be here with me?
Oh!
It's a one, one, one in a million world
And we're two, two, two in a billion in a one in a million world

Zillion stars in the sky Planets all spinning by

Take away what might have been And here we are again

It's a one, one, one in a million world
