I've been walking through the ruins
Of my life in times
Seems like everything's sinking right in front of my eyes

I've been asking all the questions
But nothing's coming back
Now I'm trying to keep myself from slipping through the cracks

Where's my faith?
How did I get this far?
Who do I blame
When it falls apart

Maybe the moon's just a hole in the sky
One day at a time my world is shattering
Maybe the answer's to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling
Unraveling

I do not who to turn to
And I wonder who's a friend
Out of everyone I trusted her to be there to the end

I'm running out of reasons
For putting up a fight
Trying to drag another lost soul back into the light

How could I heal
So many broken hearts
And who's that for me
When it falls apart

Maybe the moon's just a hole in the sky
One day at a time my world is shattering
Maybe the answer's to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling
Unraveling

We were strong
When we started all

Something went wrong
All the things that mattered
Somehow got away

Away...

Maybe the moon's just a hole in the sky
One day at a time my world is shattering
Maybe the answer's to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling

As I watch my life unraveling

Watching it unwind
One day at the time
Watching it unwind
Watching it unwind
Watching it unwind
One day at the time
