you will be my love that girl i have never dated and when i do you will never be outdated i value and i want you to hear and when you are far i hope you could be near i don't want another chick no but as per you i will continue to love you more each and every step of the way my love continue to grow each and every day if i could be able to take the feeling away believe me you i could do it instantly because its not that funny you loving someone who don't know how you feel you trying with you effort to penetrate through by the thought they will get the point without prove but they don't and now you obliged to tell the truth and i say it on this track i value you and may the almighty bless me and you and to make you my wife that's what i will be expecting soon chorus don't wonna live without you love another like you

that's how i value you that's how much i value you verse

i value you to an extent not to under cover play you because ever since i knew you are the meant i took an oath to be true do your part and i will do my part and the almighty will as well do his part and as long as we stay true we will never be apart and that is more than a fact and i really like you acts when you come near me and say you all mine that make me feel fine
